

CASE STUDY

Service: Anti Slip Surfacing

Project: Sachi Marketing

Location: Central London

Installation overview

Following a Health and Safety inspection our client asked us if we could supply and apply a durable surface coating with non slip properties to all of the fire escapes. The existing coatings were failing due to wear and inadequate preparation and could be a slip hazard during the evacuation of the building.

Special considerations

ERS had to consider the appropriate means of preparation taking noise and dust control into consideration. We have to source the correct material that would afford a good degree of non slip that would also cure quickly minimising down time in the use of the exits and fire escapes as out of hours work was not permitted.

Why ERS was selected

ERS has an extensive range of vacuum assisted surface preparation equipment and coating products. With the ability to source materials from many of the countries leading manufactures, and because we are fully approved and certificated in the use of all of their product ranges ERS has the ability to source the correct materials for every eventuality. This contract was completed with minimal disruption to our client.
